

Social Contract for Residential Living

At Seton Hill University, the health and safety of our faculty, staff, and students is our top priority. In response to COVID-19, the University is putting several measures in place to provide a safer campus to attend class, live, and work. As individuals, we each play a critical role in the health and safety of all members of our community, and we must recognize that our actions have an impact on others. As a result, the following policies will be enacted for the Fall 2020 semester.

While living in the residence halls I will:

- Not host any overnight guests.
- Not host any guests who do not attend Seton Hill University. I recognize after move-in this includes my family as well.
- Comply with the maximum occupancy of each room being twice the number of assigned residents in that room.
- Sanitize my personal belongings and my room regularly. If I live in a suite with a private bathroom, I will clean and sanitize it regularly.
- Keep all common areas clean including lounges, kitchens and laundry facilities.
- Promptly remove my items from the washers and dryers.
- Comply with Health Services or the Office of Residence Life if I am requested to quarantine or isolate in a separate location, and will move to the alternative housing arrangements provided promptly.
- Understand that dining service, including where and how it will be offered to residential students, is subject to modifications to address public health concerns.
- Fully cooperate and abide by all signage and directions.
- Consult with my Resident Assistant if I have any questions or concerns.

By signing this Social Contract for Residential Living, I agree to abide by these rules and regulations. I acknowledge that Seton Hill University cannot eliminate the risk of illness during a global pandemic.
